

Auditing

We are Registered Auditors, and as such are qualified to carry out audits and sign audit reports. We appreciate that for companies where the directors are the owners, auditing is often perceived as an unnecessary add-on. However, where the law requires an audit, we endeavour to make the project worthwhile.

We take a serious objective view of your internal systems and report back in letter form on the shortcomings and advise on how they can be put right.

Not only does this mitigate fraud, but paves the way for procedures to ensure the company gets value for all its efforts, thereby improving long term financial performance and stability.
